6.2. Deferral of studies and retaking a course:

6.3. Tasks:

6.3.1. A student who was absent due to a Qualifying Event on the date that was set for the submission of a task or close thereto, may submit the task or an alternative task, in accordance with the decision of the Lecturer, after her return to her studies. Procedure Regarding Adjustments due to Fertility Treatments, Pregnancy, Birth etc. 5773

6.4.3. In the event that there is no available equivalent practical training or there is none at all, the responsible lecturer will examine, in coordination with the coordinator of undergraduate / graduate studies at the academic unit, whether there is similar practical training (i.e. practical training with study content that is not identical but, in the opinion of the responsible lecturer, is sufficiently similar in order to meet the academic objectives of the training) and the student will complete the practical training within the same semester or at another date to be determined by the responsible lecturer.

6.4.4. If there is no similar practical training, the Dean of Undergraduate Studies or the Dean of the Graduate School will consider the option of exempting the student from the practical training, after consultation with the head of the academic unit responsible for the student’s track of study.

6.4.5. To dispel any doubt, it is clarified that in the event in which the circumstances set forth in Subsections 6.4.2, 6.4.3 or 6.4.4 are not met, the student will perform the practical training at the next possible opportunity.

6.5.3. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 6.7 of Appendix D of the Procedures and Regulations in Undergraduate Studies (regarding visiting the toilet during exams that are two hours or longer in duration), a pregnant student may use the toilet during an exam. (1)

Visiting the toilet will be under the proctor's approval and in accordance with the proctor’s instructions (accompanied by a proctor, timed/spaced exits in the event that there are a number of students leaving the exam room, and the like).

1 Footnote: a pregnant student, regardless of a Qualifying Event, is entitled to receive approval from the Adjustments Coordinator regarding the pregnancy in order to be able to present the said approval during an exam.
6.5.4. A pregnant student is entitled to additional time during an exam in the amount of 25% of the duration of the exam time. (1) This additional time partially overlaps with other time additions to which the student may be entitled, if any, such that the total additional time extension will not exceed 30% of the duration of the exam. This provision prevails over any other previous provision, unless explicitly stated otherwise.

6.5.5. During the period of up to 15 weeks after having given birth, a student is entitled to additional time during the final exam in medical studies (MD) in the amount of 25% of the duration of the exam time. This additional time overlaps with other time additions to which the student may be entitled, if any. The provisions of this Section will not detract from the student's rights as detailed in section 6.5.2 of this procedure.

A student who, due to a Qualifying Event, was absent from an exam or did not submit a task in a course that constitutes a prerequisite, and those alone, is entitled to study “on condition” in an advanced course or advanced year until the completion of the exam or task in accordance with the provisions of Sections 6.3 and 6.5 above.

6.7. Extension of studies:

6.7.1. A student who was absent due to a Qualifying Event is entitled to extend her studies by two semesters after the conclusion of the original Study Period, without being charged tuition or any additional obligatory payment due to the said extension. To dispel any doubt, it is clarified that payments for additional services, such as dorms and the like, are not considered an additional obligatory payment, as stated above.

6.8. On-campus parking:

6.8.1. A student in her seventh or later month of pregnancy will be entitled to receive a parking pass (red) at no cost. The pass will be limited to half a year.

6.9. Research scholarship:

6.9.1. The scholarship of a student who is absent from her studies due to a Qualifying Event will not be stopped for a period of up to 15 weeks.

6.9.2. After the student returns to her studies, her period of eligibility to a scholarship will be extended by a period of time equal to the period of her absence due to the Qualifying Event, subject to the provisions of Subsection 6.9.4 below, but no longer than 15 weeks.
6.9.3. To dispel any doubt, if the period of eligibility for scholarships ended during the absence due to a Qualifying Event, the period of eligibility for scholarships will only be extended due to the months during which there was eligibility for scholarships from the total period in which the scholarship was paid due to the Qualifying Event, subject to the provisions of Subsection 6.9.2 above.

6.9.4. The provisions above are contingent on and subject to the student notifying the Technion on her eligibility by no later than 30 days from the date of the Qualifying Event.

6.10.2. Spouse of a student after birth who was absent from an exam held within three weeks from the date of the birth will be entitled to an additional exam date within the framework of the Customary Technion Exam Dates.

6.11. Prizes and merit scholarship:

The duration of studies, when used as a criterion for eligibility for Prizes, scholarships and merit scholarships from the Technion, will include the time of absence due to a Qualifying Event.

6.12. Photocopy card:
